

A Trickling Filter is a fixed-bed, biological reactor that operates under (mostly) aerobic conditions. Pre-settled wastewater is continuously 'trickled' or sprayed over the filter. As the water percolates through the pores of the filter, organics are degraded by the biofilm covering the filter material.

Materials